By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP) — Robert Stack straps on his shoulder holster, checks his automatic and says to his fellow crime fighters: "Allons!"

What is Elliott Ness doing in Tahiti? The fact is that "The Untouchables"—the French-language version—has proved to be one of the most popular attractions on Tahitian television. Other American hits have been "Bonanza" and "The Invaders."

The tourist visitor, overwhelmed by the physical attractions of French Polynesia, might consider television as superfluous as snowshoes. But the natives appear to love it.

Tahitian television, which began in 1964, is now received by 7,500 home sets. That's not much by U.S. standards, but the number is remarkable when you realize that the signal extends only to Papeete's population: 30,000 and its closest environs, plus the opposite shore of Baiti Hai-like Moorea, 12 miles away.

Consider also the small earnings of most Tahitians and the cost of television sets—$200 to $300. How do the natives manage to become set owners?

"Very simple," says Jean Suhass, a former Paris journalist who directs the television operation. "In many cases three families will have homes on the same communal property. So they put their money together and buy a set they all can watch."

Americans would find the local television schedule spare—it's 3 1/2 hours on weekends and 4 1/2 on weeknights, starting at 6:30. Three times a week, lessons in English, French, science and other education subjects are offered for the youthful audience.

The nightly schedule begins with a half hour of cartoons and serials for the small fry, then the news. Then come variety shows and series, some from the United States but the bulk from France. From 15 to 18 per cent of all programming is of local origin.

Tahitian television is operated by the French government-owned ORTF. Mon dieu, no commercials!

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

ALL IN THE WAY YOU FACE IT

Dear Helen;

I was in an accident and have false teeth, though I'm only 16. I took a girl out to dinner. While eating French bread, my upper plate got loosened, and she found out. She looked at me like I was her grandfather.

I didn't explain because I was too embarrassed. Now I can't face her or the other kids, as they're probably all talking about it, and maybe laughing about the time "Jim dropped his teeth."

What can I do? —JIM

Dear Jim:

Stop making a mountain out of a few molars. The kids couldn't care less whether your teeth are anchored or not, but if YOU are self-conscious about them, you'll always be waiting for "that look."

Almost everyone wears something false these days, whether it's padding, hair, or built-up shoes. Talk casually about your "store teeth" and you'll find others soon accept them as casually as they do contact lenses. —H.

Dear Helen:

I have a little sister and every time I make a move she runs to tell my parents. Well, I've been cursing a little lately, so my sis jogged on up to Mom and finked. Even the President wouldn't say "Goodness Gracious" if he stubs his toe.

Now I'm getting punished, even though I learned the words from Dad, mainly. They seem to think they can curse because they're adults, but I can't. I don't do it around grownups and I don't say anything really obscene.

They're just words anyway.

What's wrong with them? —

CONFUSED AND PUNISHED

Dear C and P:

What's wrong is that they get you punished—and you know they might, which is why these forbidden words somehow make the stubbed toe feel better.

Why don't you coin a few choice words of your own, that are meaningless to your finky little sister? They'll release the tension just about as well, and won't get you into trouble. —H.

Dear Helen:

"Overpunished Sue" wanted teens to make comments on which is better, a spanking or a grounding.

I would rather get a good spanking than be grounded, in the same way I'd rather take bad tasting medicine than be sick for a week. —TOM

Dear Helen:

The teen-ager who would rather be spanked than grounded obviously hasn't been spanked much.

I'm 15 and have discovered that when my folks say I can't go out for two weeks, they usually feel sorry for me after a few days and let up. Or they cut off my allowance, but I can always borrow from friends or my big brother.

But if Dad decides a spanking is in order, there isn't any way out. I hate it. I've got a good relationship with my Mom and Dad so when he wallops me, I'm just demoralized. That means I have really loused up things, and I resolve never to deserve a spanking again. —S.T.

Dear Helen:

Maybe being grounded for two months is a "bit much" punishment for Sue, but I bet she never ditched school again. I'm an 18-year-old and no goody-two-shoes. However, if more parents would mete out this type of punishment, we would have less of these "demonstrating teen-agers." I think we should give "Overpunished Sue's" parents a standing ovation! —SUNDSTORM

Trevino and Player, Open Favorites

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHASKA, Minn. (AP) - Lee Trevino, no longer discouraged by the first ball he ever hit at Hazeltine National, classed himself and Gary Player as the men to beat in the 70th U.S. Open golf championship.

Trevino, the wise-cracking Mexican-American from El Paso, Tex., and Player, the little South African, played more practice rounds leading up to today's first round than any others in the field of 136 professionals and 14 amateurs.

While most other members of the tour stopped in Chicago for the Western Open, Player and Trevino were learning about the par 72, 7,151-yard Hazeltine. Player arrived nine days ago, Trevino eight.

"This is going to be my week," said Trevino. "I'm really set on winning and if I can get by Player, I should do it. I've been here more than a week and I know this course."

But three years ago, Trevino did not know the sprawling Hazeltine layout southwest of Minneapolis, and he fondly recalled his first round on the course in 1967 before he was a qualified member of the tour.

"The first time I ever qualified on the tour was on this course," Trevino said. "I skinned my first shot into the hedges and lost my ball. I finished that day with a 76 but made the tournament. I don't remember my score in the tournament. I did win $800."

Trevino's rise to golfing stardom came less than a year later when he won the 1968 U.S. Open. He failed to make the cut in the 1969 Open at Houston because of a knee injury, and he came to Hazeltine as the tour's leading money winner in 1970 and a week early with the idea of regaining his title.

The carefree Texan, although serious with his intentions, remained jovial in his week of preparation. Trevino promised, however, that he would avoid the method he took earlier this week when one of his admirers gave him a large jar of Mexican jalapenos - hellish little peppers.

"I put them in my golf bag and ate one each hole," Trevino said. "I not only burned up the course, but my mouth along with it."

Crowds of more than 20,000, including Lee's fans, find out starting today what Trevino has planned.

Bob Gibson Just Misses a No-Hitter

By TOM SALADINO

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Gibson was firing bullets but fortunately for San Diego, one of his blazing missiles misfired, saving the Padres the embarrassment of being no-hit victims for the second time within a week.

Ivan Murrell was the mini-hero of the Padres, exploding a two-out eighth inning single—the only hit—off the overpowering St. Louis righthander, who faced only 29 batters as the Cardinals routed San Diego 8-0 Wednesday night.

In other National League action, Los Angeles blanked Pittsburgh 4-0, Atlanta nipped Montreal 6-5, Cincinnati stopped the New York Mets 7-4, Chicago belted San Francisco 6-1 and Philadelphia whipped Houston 4-2.

In the American League, Milwaukee dropped Baltimore 5-1, Boston trimmed Kansas City 3-1, Washington edged Minnesota 3-1, Chicago topped New York 6-3 and Detroit socked Oakland 9-7. The California at Cleveland contest was postponed by rain.

Only five nights earlier, Dock Ellis of the Pirates tossed the season's only no-hitter, blanking the Padres 2-0.

And Gibson, the 34-year-old, four-time 20-game winner, now 8-3 after reeling off his sixth consecutive victory, appeared on his way to the first no-hitter of his brilliant career.

Only one ball was hit hard, a liner in the fifth by Ron Slocum, but it was right at first baseman Rich Allen, until Murrell drilled a sharp grounder over second base and into center field in the eighth.

Gibson, the NL's Cy Young Award and Most Valuable Player while leading the Cards to the 1968 pennant, finished with 13 strikeouts and walked only two batters. One was wiped out on a double play.

The Omaha, Neb., native had come close once before, limiting Philadelphia to a lone hit in 1965. Jose Cardenal backed Gibson's performance, stroking three doubles, scoring twice and driving in a pair of runs. Gibson also delivered two run-scoring singles and lowered his ERA to 3.76 while upping his strikeouts to 126 in 107 2-3 innings, second in the league to Tom Seaver's 129.

Claude Osteen, bagging his ninth victory, staggered for five innings, allowing the Pirates six of their seven hits before handing Pittsburgh its second straight shutout loss.

The loser was Ellis, making his first start since his no-hitter against the Padres. The fast-balling right-hander retired the first 10 Dodger hitters before Manny Mota singled. Wes Parker then drove in Mota and Los Angeles added a pair of runs in the sixth on run-scoring hits by Andy Kosco and Bill Grabarke-witz.

Gil Garrido drilled an eighth-inning triple and came home on Rico Carty's single as the Braves came from behind to stop the Expos.

Montreal led 4-0 before Braves starter Jim Nash ripped a two-run homer. Mike Lum's two-run double in the seventh tied it for Atlanta at 5-5 before Carty's game winner. Jim Gosger homered for the Expos.

Pinch hitter Hal McRae lined a run-scoring single to cap a three-run ninth as the Reds rallied for their victory, snapping the Mets' winning streak at four games.

Lee May's 16th homer of the season—a two-run shot—had tied it in the eighth. John Bench added his 21st of the year for the Red while Tommie Agee and Cleon Jones homered for New York.

Ernie Banks slammed a three-run blast and Paul Popovich a solo homer while Jim Hickman contributed a two-run double in the Cubs' triumph. Ken Holtzman, 8-3, posted his fifth consecutive victory, holding the Giants to seven hits, including Willie Mays' 15th homer. Mays also cracked a single, pulling him within 20 hits of the exclusive 3,000-hit club.

Deron Johnson rapped a pair of doubles, driving in the deciding run and setting up an insurance marker in the Phillies' victory.

Quarry K.O's Foster in 6th Round

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - The fight game's slam-bang, good old days were on review as part of a tribute to Jack Dempsey. Then, the crowd settled back and watched Jerry Quarry burst a brand-new boxing bubble by stopping previously unbeaten Mac Foster.

That was Madison Square Garden Wednesday night as a crowd of 15,915 turned out to wish a happy 75th birthday to Dempsey, the old Manassa Mauler, and sit in on the big town debut of Foster, the massive ex-Marine from Fresno, Calif., with 24 knockouts in 24 fights.

They roared as Dempsey, the legend and the memory, demolished Jess Willard and Georges Carpentier on large movie screens at each end of the arena.

Then they roared as Foster, the new heavyweight sensation, went down before the flailing fists of Quarry, the California Irishman who put himself back into the role of a leading contender for Joe Frazier's title.

Foster met sports writers after the fight, seated side-by-side with Quarry, and accepted his loss with grace.

"It's not really that bad a feeling," the 27-year-old veteran of six years in the Marines said of his first loss. "I'd rather lose to a worthy opponent than one who wasn't. Then, I'd really feel bad."

What mistake did he make?

"I dropped my left."

And when he dropped his left in the sixth, Quarry caught him with a right and then battered him about the ring, finally knocking him through the ropes and on to the ring apron with another right. The count reached three and referee Johnny LoBlanco stopped it. The time was 2:09.

Florida State Vs. So. Cal.

OMAHA (AP) - Florida State, never in the winner's circle of the College World Series in four previous trips, and Southern California, champion five times, the last in 1968, clash Thursday night for the NCAA baseball pennant.

As the top-ranked Trojans watched, having drawn a bye in the double-elimination tournament Wednesday night, Florida State stamped No. 2 Texas out of the meet 11-2. The No. 3 Seminoles will carry 49-8 season mark against the Trojans, 50-13, as the two teams meet for the first time in the tourney.

USC Coach Rod Dedeaux is expected to start sophomore righthander Greg Widman (6-3) with Coach Jack Stallings of Florida State countering with junior southpaw Pat Osburn (12-2). Each has a World Series victory.

Gene Amman was the big hero Wednesday night. The Seminoles unbeaten junior right-hander who entered the game with a 0.50 ERA, spaced seven hits, fanned 17 and walked 4 for victory No. 15. His scoreless streak ended after 41 1-3 innings when Texas pitcher Walt Rothe hammered a two-run homer in the fifth inning—his first of the year.

The Seminoles collected 13 hits off five pitchers, pinning the loss on starter James Street (8-2) who dilled bases on walks after one out in the first inning and was yanked.

Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson said that Street—quarterback of the Longhorns national football champions last year—had aggravated a pulled groin muscle on his first pitch of the game.

Padded Bras 'Out' for Girls Running in London Amateur

LONDON (AP) - Girl athletes who breast the finishing tape with padded bras—known as falsies—were given a stern warning today by the women's Amateur Athletic Association.

The association said it was taking measures to end this front running by girls with boosted bras.

"We want to be sure that the real girls not the padded ones win in any tight finish," said Marea Hartman, the secretary of the association.

Miss Hartman said she will be in the dressing rooms at London's Crystal Palace Stadium Friday and Saturday to make sure the ruling is kept in the association's annual championships.

"We think it is high time that built-up curves are ruled out of international women's racing."

"By making a start in our own championships we hope to give a lead for an international ban to include the Olympic Games," she said.

Claims Votes to Kill BB Merger

By ED SHEARER

ATLANTA (AP) - Frank Miele, saying he once was the "lone voice in the wilderness," claims he has enough votes to kill a merger of the National Basketball Association with the American Basketball Association.

The owner of the San Francisco Warriors here for the two day meeting of the NBA's Board of Governors, said Wednesday that there were seven negative votes in the most recent merger vote by the owners. It takes only five votes to kill a merger.

"All I have to do is keep my seven little men together," said Miele, who has the NBA rights to two stars now with ABA teams Rick Barry of Washington and ZELMO Beaty of Los Angeles.

"Then there will either be no merger or one with conditions that are more favorable to the NBA than right now," he said.

The board was scheduled to discuss a merger at today's session.

However, a U.S. District Court in New York issued an injunction last May forbidding the leagues to merge. The injunction came in a suit filed by the NBA Players Association.

The court did, however, permit the two leagues to formulate plans to submit to Congress, which must first grant permission for a merger. Then the matter would go back to the court and actual merger provisions couldn't be agreed upon until favorable disposition of the suit.

If that stage is ever reached, the NBA determined at least one merger condition in the aftermath of the Ralph Simpson signing hassle.

NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said the NBA would insist that the ABA agree not to sign college players before their class graduated.

The Denver Rockets of the ABA announced Tuesday the signing of Simpson, a star at Michigan State who had two years eligibility remaining.

However, ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said Wednesday he would reject the Simpson contract and fine Denver $10,000 if the contract reached his office.

Dolph's statement came after the National Collegiate Athletic Association urged its members and coaches to invoke an immediate boycott on the ABA because of the Simpson accident.

Simpson Is College Star of Decade
NEW YORK (AP) - O.J. Simpson, an All-American in 1967 and 1968, has been voted the outstanding college football player of the past decade in a survey conducted by the American Broadcasting Company.

The former University of Southern California halfback, who was named the Heisman Trophy winner in 1968, received 1,100 points, Roone Arledge, president of ABC sports, announced today.

Former Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis finished second in balloting of the nation's sports-writers and broadcasters with 568 points. Next were Leroy Keyes, Purdue halfback, 511 points; Roger Staubach, Navy quarterback, 474; and George Webster, Michigan State linebacker, 444.

ABA Voids Collegiate's Contract

By LOUDON KELLY

Associated Press Sports Writer
DENVER (AP) - Possible open warfare between the NCAA and the professional American Basketball Association over the Denver Rockets signing a Michigan State star with two years' eligibility left apparently has been averted by league action rejecting the contract.

Less than 24 hours after the Rockets announced they had signed Ralph Simpson as "a hardship case," ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph turned thumbs down.

Dolph said Wednesday in a statement that "if such a contract does in fact exist and is submitted to the commissioner," it would be rejected and a $10,000 fine assessed against the Denver club.

Don Ringsby, president and general manager of the Rockets, had announced Simpson's signing with some fanfare Tuesday. But after the commissioner's statement was issued on the first day of the ABA's annual meeting, Ringsby said he would have nothing to say.

However, he gave strong indication the Rockets are not likely to risk the fine by adding, "I am bound by the action of the league at our meeting this morning. I could be fined if I said anything."

Less than a year ago the Rockets signed Spencer Haywood, a University of Detroit star, who like Simpson had completed only his sophomore year. Denver also termed this a hardship situation.

Dolph issued his statement in the Simpson case after the NCAA headquarters in Kansas City had called upon member schools to boycott the ABA.

Later, University of Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, announced, "The air is cleared."

"It's all over," Rupp said, apparently referring to the call for a boycott. "I've had a call from Commissioner Dolph and it's all over with."

The assistant executive director of the NCAA, Arthur Bergstrom, said at Kansas City the collegiate organization would have no further comment immediately. He said "we'll just hold that in abeyance and see what happens regarding Simpson."

Dolph said at a news conference Wednesday night that officials of two ABA clubs had been contacted by a man identifying himself Simpson. "I'd rather not say what franchises these were and we have no proof it was Simpson who actually made the calls," he said.

Asked about the possibility of court action concerning the Simpson-Rocket contract, Dolph said, "If we have to go to court, we will."

In his statement earlier, Dolph said the Rockets' signing of Simpson "violates provisions of the American Basketball Association bylaws... which prohibit any member club from signing players whose college eligibility has not expired."

The league Wednesday chose Wendell Cherry of the Kentucky Colonels as its new president and gave final approval to Ned Doyle as the new owner of the Miami Floridians.

Brazil, Italy to Play for Soccer Title

By DENNIS REDMONT
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Brazil and Italy, exhausted by the nerve-jangling semifinals in the World Soccer Cup, rested today before going into a Sunday's match which will determine the champion.

Brazil used its goal-scoring magic on a bruising Uruguayan defense to win 3-1 Wednesday at Guadalajara.

Italy, relaxing its guard in the dying minutes of the game with 1-0 lead had to fight back to top West Germany 4-3, in an overtime scoring duel here. Even the backs of both teams scored in the dramatic finale.

West Germany, which already has played two overtimes in this World Cup, will meet Uruguay in a consolation match Saturday in Mexico City. The game will determine third and fourth place.

Italy's defense is probably the toughest in the world. Its goalie, Enrico Albertosi, has only conceded four goals in the tournament so far.

But the best defense will be facing the best offense.

The Brazilians have scored 15 goals in five games so far. Only West Germany, with 16, has done better.

Brazil, twice winner of the World Cup is given an edge in Sunday's finals at Mexico City's Azteca Stadium.

The two teams have met only once before in World Cup competition, in 1938, in France.

Italy won 2-1 in a semi-final round and went on to take the Jules Rimet Trophy by beating Hungary 4-2.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jockey Hector Viera rode five winners at Tropical Park Wednesday.

Hope Angels Beat Gurden by 4 to 1

Wednesday night the Hope Angels defeated Gurden, 4-1 at Prescott, for their fourth victory against five losses.

Hope actually scored the only runs needed when Everett Jones hit a home run with one man aboard in the fourth inning.

The only Gurden run also came in the fourth. The Angels only outhit Gurden 7 to 6, with Walker picking up the win and Griffen suffering the loss.

The next scheduled game is Sunday at Legion Field, against Springhill.

Travelers Again Win Over Dallas

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers sailed past Dallas-Fort Worth 7-1 in Texas League action here Thursday night.

With the win, Steve Evans became the first Traveler pitcher to reach seven wins. He now is 7-3 for the season. Evans allowed the Spurs only five hits during the game.

The Travelers now have a 3-1 edge on the series. The Travelers scored in the fifth to snap the 1-1 tie and picked up three insurance runs in the seventh.

In other games, Shreveport downed Albuquerque 7-1, Amarillo beat San Antonio 2-1 and El Paso took Memphis, 8-6.

Hanoi May Concentrate on Cambodia

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Hanoi apparently had decided it must smash the government of Gen. Lon Nol in a matter of months, qualified diplomatic and intelligence sources report. It looks like a major change of strategy.

The aim of a major drive now under way and said to be aimed at Phnom Penh seems to be to give the Communists a major victory that will in part divert attention from their inability so far to make good on promises to "liberate" South Vietnam.

Only a month ago both Communist and Western sources believed Hanoi's Cambodian offensive was launched to widen its supply routes toward South Vietnam and to set up new base camps well removed from the Cambodian border area entered by American and South Vietnamese troops last month.

Communist sources say that now the major target is Phnom Penh and the Lon Nol government. A Western source says that the primary objective in Indochina is to destroy the pro-Western government that seized power from Prince Norodom Sihanouk March 18.

The Communist scenario, as pieced together from various sources, apparently is supposed to go something like this:

Elements of five North Vietnamese divisions now within fairly easy striking distance of Phnom Penh will begin closing in on the capital. One of the first major attacks will be against Cambodia's small air force, based almost exclusively at Phnom Penh. This will throw the burden of the air war on South Vietnam, or possibly the United States.

Part of Phnom Penh would be taken in an offensive. The hope seemingly is that South Vietnamese aircraft would bomb occupied parts of the city.

North Vietnamese cadre are reported to be training upwards of 6,000 Cambodians about 40 miles west of Phnom Penh to be sent into the capital after North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops do the heavy fighting. However, Communist sources say the recently recruited Cambodians have proved extremely disappointing, placing their military role in doubt. Part of the reasoning for sending Cambodians into Phnom Penh could be that these forces would suffer most of any bombing casualties if the South Vietnamese react.

Such a bombing together with continuing rumors—mostly with some foundation—of large scale South Vietnamese looting in Cambodia might discredit Lon Nol's regime.

RARELY SEEN in public, Jean-Paul Sartre continues to support liberal causes. The philosopher-playwright-novelist was photographed in Paris on his way to testify at trial of publisher of a left-wing newspaper.

Search for Kidnapers of Envoy

By GEORGE HAWRYLYSHYN
Associated Press Writer

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Police are rounding up suspects in the kidnaping of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, who says his abductors never removed their masks and kept him in one room during his five days of captivity.

Arrests were reported throughout the city Wednesday, but there was no reliable estimate of the number. Reports told of a student leader arrested in one part of Rio, a former opposition politician in another, and a lifeguard at the Copacabana beach.

The 61-year-old ambassador told a news conference Wednesday night that the kidnapers seized him from his car, chloroformed him into semiconsciousness, and put him into a large box so he could not see where he was being taken. They did not let him out, he said, until he reached the room where he was held hostage.

Nine young men and a woman with submachine guns intercepted von Holleben's car last Thursday night, killing one of his Brazilian security guards and wounding the other two. They kept him until after 40 political prisoners were flown to Algiers as ransom, then freed him Tuesday night on a Rio street.

The abductors identified themselves in leaflets as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, an underground leftist group opposed to Brazil's military rule.

Von Holleben said he first thought there had been an accident when the kidnapers stopped his car, but "after I heard the shooting I knew it was a kidnaping."

During his five days in captivity, the ambassador said, he wrote letters telling his family he was well and listened to radio broadcasts on the kidnaping and the efforts to get him released.

"I had good food, mainly sandwiches and Coca-Cola, and they were correct in their treatment," he said. "I was not forced to do anything."

"They just told me that it was dangerous to go near the window, and I knew they did not mean it was dangerous because I could fall out."

Von Holleben said his abductors "never mentioned the name of von Sprei and never threatened me in any way."

Aging Workers Sue

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — U.S. District Judge Oren Harris Tuesday began hearing a suit that attorneys said is the first brought under a 1967 federal law that prohibits discrimination in employment because of age.

Six former employees of the El Dorado plant of the Monsanto Co. filed the suit, claiming that their employment was terminated in 1969 because of their age. The men are 56 years old or older.

They claim that younger men were hired in jobs they were qualified to perform.

Business, Labor Split on Message

By DAVID BURKE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Top labor leaders criticized President Nixon's economic proposals while the business community reacted with mixed views.

Labor spokesmen said Wednesday the President's plan for calling public attention to significant wage or price increases would hurt labor without reducing inflation.

Some business executives and economists expressed disappointment that the President did not go far enough in the area of wage and price controls.

Others lauded the President's stand, saying they found his speech reassuring.

"President Nixon's latest program against inflation is, like his previous policies and tactics in the economic area, weighted against the American worker," said Paul Jennings, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

"It includes nothing ... to bring down interest rates, nothing to correct the imbalance between high prices and inadequate wages, and nothing to put a brake on excess profits," he said.

Paul Samuelson, economist at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, characterized the speech as "anticlimactic," and called the idea of spotlighting wage and price increases "a very weak thing."

While expressing agreement with Nixon's optimism for the long term, GAF Corp. Chairman Jesse Werner said he regretted that the President did not "give more consideration to steps more closely approaching wage and price controls."

University of Chicago economist Milton Friedman called Nixon's talk a "further demonstration that the President has a steady, long-range policy and the courage to pursue it despite a lot of political pressure for wage and price controls."

Safeguard Missiles Cut Back

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has voted to limit expansion of the Safeguard missile defense system in a bid to outflank critics who want the program pruned far more drastically.

The committee's Wednesday action to cut funds for four Safeguard bases marked the first successful move to curtail the program. It came after Safeguard critics—who came within one vote in 1969 of killing the entire program—indicated they would try for stringent restrictions.

"I think this action will make it easier to get Senate approval," committee Chairman John D. Stennis said afterwards. "I think it will strengthen the passage of the Safeguard program."

The four bases were described by administration officials as essential to the area defense plan designed to thwart a possible rocket attack by mainland China.

The Safeguard package was part of a $20.2 billion Pentagon procurement bill that was trimmed $1.3 billion by the committee.

Although the Safeguard action was the highlight, the panel also approved discretionary powers for President Nixon to sell $325 million in jet war planes to Israel; deleted fund requests for a third nuclear attack carrier that would have cost $152 million; and killed the Cheyenne helicopter program.

It approved with some restrictions, funds for the controversial C-5 giant jet transport and the F111 fighter-bomber.

The Safeguard action came in two votes.

Stennis, D-Miss., said the committee first rejected 12 to 6 an amendment by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., to end any Safeguard expansion beyond the two bases approved in last year's 50-50 Senate vote.

Instead, it approved, 11-7, a proposal by Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev.—who voted against ABM deployment last year—to drop the four area defense sites in northeastern and northwestern United States, the Michigan-Ohio area and near Washington, D.C.

Safeguard opponents said the Cannon amendment takes only about $32 million from the $1.35 billion ABM section of the bill while the Brooke proposal would have slashed at least $313 million.

Brooke said he wasn't sure the Cannon amendment would win Senate approval in spite of statements by Stennis and others.

Although rejecting funds for four Safeguard projects, the committee accepted the administration's request for $178 million to begin Safeguard site procurement for Whiteman Air Force Base near Kansas City and $95.2 million to begin construction there.

National Election in Britain

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Britons began electing a new House of Commons today with Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government strongly favored to win a mandate for another five years of its watered-down socialism.

An extra hour of polling, forecasts of sunny weather and extension of the vote for the first time to those 18-20 years old all pointed to a record turnout. More than 30 million of the 40 million eligible were expected to vote.

Edward Heath's Conservatives, trailing in every nationwide opinion sampling, were hoping enough key marginal districts would buck the national trend to squeak them in. But three final opinion polls today predicted Labor majorities of 20, 60 or 100 seats in the 630-seat Commons.

Cambodians Fear Strike at Capital

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH (AP) — Fighting continued around two Cambodian provincial capitals today while Phnom Penh's population tensely waited to see if an enemy attack on the capital city would materialize.

A Buddhist monk who said he escaped from North Vietnamese troops at Kompong Speu told a news conference the Communists boasted they would attack Phnom Penh today, three months to the day after Premier Lon Nol said his associates deposed Prince Norodom Sihanouk as chief of state.

Several diplomats said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong already had scored a propaganda victory by frightening the city's population. Meanwhile, Phnom Penh was quiet.

A military spokesman reported fighting in Kompong Thom, a provincial capital 80 miles north of Phnom Penh, and said South Vietnamese helicopters and gunships were flying in support of the ground troops.

He also reported scattered fighting around Kompong Chhnang, 55 miles northwest of the capital, where enemy troops were reported Wednesday to have taken partial control of the town and to have set up strong points in a hotel and the central market. Today the spokesman said Cambodian troops were trying to clear the area but there was no fighting in the town itself.

The spokesman also described the situation around Angkor Wat, the famed temple ruin in northwest Cambodia, as critical. He said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had occupied nearly all the vast 12th century ruin, Cambodia's greatest national treasure, and had established several hospitals and storage areas there.

"More seriously," he added, "they are putting in anti-aircraft gun emplacements around the temples."

Case of 12-Ounce Baby Who Survived Goes Back 34 Years

By DEBORAH RANKIN
Associated Press Writer

BRISTOL, Wis. (AP) — Three well-worn scrapbooks, a bottle and a blanket are the only mementos that Jacqueline Benson Feicht has of the brief renown she was accorded as the world's smallest baby 34 years ago.

Medical authorities gave the 12-ounce infant little chance for survival. But after 4½ months in an incubator and forced feeding through a tube to her stomach, Jackie was released from a Chicago hospital. She reached her normal weight and size by the time she was 2 and doctors hailed her survival as a medical miracle.

Interest in Jackie's infancy was renewed last month when Sally B. Glaes, Seaside, Calif., wife of Navy Lt. Roger Glaes, gave birth to a 1-pound-7-ounce girl. The baby, Laura Elizabeth, was three to four months premature. She died May 26.

Little of her former life in the limelight has rubbed off on Mrs. Feicht, a kindergarten teacher and wife of a Milwaukee social worker.

She and her husband, Emil Daniel Feicht Jr., are childless but are preparing to adopt four children of American Indian heritage—a family of three brothers and a sister. Mr. and Mrs. Feicht live with his parents in this small town just north of the Illinois state line and operate a dog breeding business in their spare time.

Mrs. Feicht recalls—with annoyance—the public aspect of her singular medical history. She says one photograph of her as an unclothed infant that accompanied annual stories on her birthdays throughout the years caused her intense embarrassment as a teenager and a rough time as a teacher.

The phone calls and letters from her public still occur. "I swear, they must all come from old women who had children at the same time Jackie was born," said her husband. The writers and callers express a few words of encouragement and often refer to similar situations in their own families.

The scrapbooks, the doll-size bonnet and blanket made for the young Jackie by some admirers, are not on display. She is less than lukewarm about her early fame and noted the record

Sukarno Reported Near Death

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Former President Sukarno was reported near death today. "It is only a matter of time now," said one of the relatives who gathered at the hospital bedside of Indonesia's George Washington.

An attending physician said the chances of Sukarno's surviving were 25-75 against him.

"We are doing our best, but the old man is very weak," the doctor said. Now 69, Sukarno has suffered from kidney stones, high blood pressure and a circulatory ailment for several years.

He was rushed to the army hospital Tuesday night in a coma. He reportedly regained consciousness after reaching the hospital but was unable to speak to his divorced first wife, Fatmawati, and to his children who came to see him.

Earlier this year Sukarno was taken to the hospital, but he responded then to treatment and was returned to the spacious, lonely mansion on the edge of Jakarta where he has been under house arrest since he was deposed in 1968.

Once the playboy of the eastern world, Sukarno reluctantly granted a divorce to one of his five official wives in 1967, to two others last year—among them Fatmawati—and to his fifth, Ratna Sari Dewi, a 29-year-old former Tokyo nightclub hostess, last January.

His only remaining wife is Hartini, who had been prevented from seeing him for two years until his 69th birthday party at his residence on June 6.

Sukarno, Indonesia's president from his proclamation of its independence in 1945 until his overthrow in 1968.

Suharto, Sukarno's successor in the presidency, led the military movement which took over the government after the abortive Communist coup in the fall of 1965.

Mayors List Woes of Big Cities

By MICHAEL J. SNIPPEN
Associated Press Writer

DENVER (AP) — Whatever their political affiliation, no matter where they come from, most American mayors of large cities recite a similar litany of woes: unemployment, race relations and not enough money to better the quality of life in their communities.

The only differences a listener hears while attending the U.S. Conference of Mayors meeting here are opinions on how best to solve their problems.

For instance, 10 mayors were asked the following question: "What is the most serious problem facing your city today and how can it best be solved?" Here are their answers:

Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland (Democrat): "Unemployment. Obviously I'd like to see a healthy economy which would be able to absorb people in a natural way in finding jobs. In the absence of this being done, I feel there is a responsibility on the government to furnish jobs. There have to be massive public works programs at this time."

Richard C. Lugar of Indianapolis (Republican): "Maintenance of full employment is our basic problem—more so now when the problem is national in scope. If we can reach full employment we will have mobility, people able to afford private housing, and less need for public support. To the extent we do not have full employment, we will have many more problems."

"Our prime solution is to seek new industry for Indianapolis. We have had help from federal programs, but realistically, there could come a day when we're not so politically favored in Washington and we better have the ability to maintain it on our own."

Wesley Uhlman of Seattle (Democrat): "Our single biggest problem is unemployment, without question. Our economy revolves around the Boeing Company and its employment has gone down from 102,000 last year to 42,000 they tell us by the end of this year."

"It is absolutely necessary to constructively criticize the (Nixon) administration—hopefully into changing the policy that in order to control inflation we have to have some unemployment. I don't agree that it's a healthy thing to have 5 million people unemployed."

John V. Lindsay of New York: "Right now the problem most pressing on us is narcotics. It's immediate, it's big, it's largely unsolved. We're experimenting but it's a very complicated and very big headache for us—and a very dangerous thing, too."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS
The California gold rush of 1849 brought more than 75,000 people into the territory within a year, enabling California to become a state in 1850. Gold was discovered by James W. Marshall, Jan. 24, 1848, on the American River, near Coloma, Calif. The World Almanac recalls. He found the gold while erecting a sawmill in partnership with Capt. John Sutter.

South won with the ace, played his ace of trumps and then cashed dummy's king and queen of hearts in order to get rid of his losing club.

At this point South might well have conceded a trump and a diamond and scored one overtrick, but South was not going anywhere in a hurry and thought he might as well score two overtricks instead of one.

He started operation overtrick by ruffing a club in his own hand. Then he threw West in with the king of trumps and waited developments.

They weren't long in coming. West could see that a club lead would allow South to set up two of dummy's clubs for diamond discards and since West's count of the hand marked South with exactly three diamonds, two diamond discards would be all he needed.

Therefore West led a low diamond in the hope that East would hold the queen. South let it ride to his queen and claimed the rest of the tricks.

Old Times Were When Girl on Date Took Along $1 Mad Money

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The two most troubled periods in most people's lives are adolescence and middle age. They are startlingly alike in that during their reign a person's thoughts and actions are deeply influenced by an inner hysteria and insecurity of which outsiders may be almost totally unaware. The cure for both adolescence and middle age is the same: you simply have to outgrow them—and go on to a calmer and better time.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember when a girl going out on a date took along only a dollar bill for her mad money. You rarely learn anything very interesting from talking to people at a cocktail party who wear sunglasses to cover up the way they still look from the cocktail party they went to the night before.

No one looks so hopeful as the old maid the day the cruise ship sails—or so forlorn the day it returns.

One of the things men wonder about all their lives is why girls tend to go to the powder room in pairs and what they talk about when they get there. Well, what they generally do is exchange

Murder Trial Witness Is Threatened

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — An

attorney says attempts are being made to intimidate Linda Kasabian, a young mother expected to be the prosecution's main witness in the Sharon Tate murder trial.

Gary Fleischman, who represents Mrs. Kasabian, said she had received letters from members of Charles Manson's hippie-type "family" urging her not to testify.

The lawyer told newsmen one letter warned his 21-year-old client "there is no real immunity"—a reference to the prosecution's reported plan to let Mrs. Kasabian go free after she testifies in the current trial.

Manson is on trial with three followers in the bizarre slayings of Miss Tate and six others last August.

Possible Relic of Bowie Knife Found by Posthole Digger

By GARNER ALLEN
Stuttgart Daily Leader
STUTTGART, Ark. (AP)—His

imagination roaming free, a perceptive person could write a novel based on the find.

Authentic Bowie or no, the weapon obviously once rode proud on a wide leather belt—the 9½ inch long scimitar-shaped blade sheathed perhaps in buckskin, its horn handles riveted to a backbone of steel, highlights dancing off the mother-of-pearl tipped cross-guard.

Historian and weapons collector and authority David Perdue of Pine Bluff, and regional archeologist Burney McClerkin, also of Pine Bluff declined to pin an official "Bowie Knife" label on the relic.

But they are most curious as to how the now-rusted once proud blade got some six feet underground over at England, where it was found six months ago by Stuttgart Alfred Kitter, an employee of Jackson Construction Co.

Kitter said the knife was nearly six feet deep when his post-hole digger struck it.

Legend has it Jim Bowie, a well-known pioneer figure of the early 19th Century, designed the original knife bearing his name and had it made by Washington, Ark. blacksmith James Black. Legend again — Black either knew a secret tempering process, or made Jim Bowie's knife out of a mixture of earth and meteorite steel.

Bowie went on with his "Arkansas toothpick" to become a hero of the Texas revolution against Mexico. Visitors who have made the Pilgrimage to the Alamo will recall that he died heroically battling the Mexicans who besieged that well-known Texas redoubt.

On the other hand, one encyclopedia says Bowie fell ill in the Alamo and was found dead on his cot at its fall.

Readers might be well advised not to argue the point with a Texan.

Whoever its maker, and what.

Man Killed on Unopened Link of I-30

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — State Police report that Dennis Earl Rowton, 20, of near Fouke was killed in a car accident on an unopened section of Interstate 30, 2½ miles from here Wednesday night.

Officials said the accident occurred when Rowton jumped on the back of a car driven by Johnny F. Rainwater, 27, of Palestine, Tex., after the car made a U-turn on the highway. Rainwater said that he did not know Rowton was on the back of his car.

Police said Rowton fell off the car.

ever its origin, Perdue classifies the knife as "Bowie type" rather than genuine Bowie, commenting that very few of the knives named for the frontiersman had the scimitar-shaped blade of the Kitter find. "It almost looks like a ceremonial knife," he observed, the pistol-grip style handle bearing testimony to that theory.

The weapons expert also pointed out that the "chipped point" (from point to jump-on back of blade) of the true Bowie usually was sharpened, where as the specimen found at England has a square edge.

Other authorities state that the term "Bowie Knife" finally came to be applied to a wide variety of hand weapons produced on the nation's forges from the early 1800s to the 1870s. Just about any knife over eight inches in length was accorded the name.

Perdue says the Bowie Knife had "real usage" in the Civil War as a fighting knife, short sword, and for a variety of up-uses in daily army camp living.

A history of weaponry reports that Bowie-style knives were used by Texas Rangers, Mississippi River pirates, and on well into this century by British and American commandoes and rangers during World War II.

The Bowie Knife and legend provide another of the jig-saw pieces in the panorama of Arkansas history, and ironically, the claim to fame of what should be the "Black Knife" for its maker is known chiefly for its best-known wielder.

Cool Break Due State Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansians will get a little relief from the hot, humid weather dominating the state as cooler air moves into the weather picture.

A weak cold front, which now extends from the Great Lakes to Oklahoma, followed by a pressure system now in the Rockies will move the cooler air into the state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says temperatures should be a little lower over northwestern and northern sections of the state Friday with a chance of the cooler air spreading southward over most other sections by Saturday.

No shower activity is expected to accompany the front.

The highs Wednesday ranged from 98 at Jonesboro to 91 at Fayetteville and Harrison.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville 71, Harrison 76, Jonesboro 73, Pine Bluff 73, Texarkana 73, El Dorado 70, Memphis 77, Little Rock 73 and Fort Smith 71.

18-Year-Old Vote Bill Is Enacted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bold bit of strategy by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has helped Congress pass a generation gap-bridging bill that lowers the voting age to 18.

By a 272-132 vote the House Wednesday accepted the 18-year-old vote provision as part of a Senate-passed bill that also continues the 1965 Voting Rights Act for five more years.

House approval sent the package to President Nixon, putting him under the same pressure that Mansfield's strategy applied to the House—accept the bill on both counts or risk further alienation of the nation's youth and its blacks.

Nixon has said he supports the 18-year-old vote, but only through a constitutional amendment, not by a simple act of Congress. He also has opposed extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act, which applies mainly to seven Southern states, on grounds it is regional legislation.

At the end of Wednesday's brief but emotional debate, House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford spoke of Nixon's past opposition and raised the possibility the President might let the bill become law without signing it. There had been earlier speculation of a veto.

Civil rights groups were alarmed when the Senate, at Mansfield's insistence, tied the 18-year-old voting proposal to the bill extending the Voting Rights Act.

One of the most successful civil rights law ever enacted, the 1965 act has resulted in adding a million Negroes to the voting rolls in seven Southern states. Its supporters feared it would be dragged under by the weight of so controversial a proposal as teen-age voting.

Particularly unhappy was Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, an ardent supporter of the Voting Rights Act but equally strong in his opposition to lowering the voting age. It was mainly to overcome Celler's opposition that Mansfield devised his strategy.

It worked to perfection Wednesday when Celler led the fight to accept the Senate bill, although still no fan of youthful voting.

Celler said there would be no way to save the Voting Rights Act from expiring in August if the House passed only the Voting Rights extension and followed the normal procedure of a House-Senate conference to range over the lower voting age.

As for the 18-year-old vote, Celler said it carries a provision calling for a prompt judicial test and a review by the Supreme Court that should settle any constitutional question before January 1. In Celler's opinion the Supreme Court will find it unconstitutional.

1 Shetland Pony Killed, 1 Hurt

One Shetland pony was killed and one injured at 7 a.m. Thursday at the intersection of Hickory and North Hazel streets.

Owner Johnny Abney was trying to catch his ponies when they ran into the path of a pickup truck driven by Harvey Wright of Hope.

No charges were filed by investigating officer Joe McCulley.

Closed Shop for Mailmen Is Beaten

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has defeated efforts to block reform of the Post Office Department and approved a measure banning compulsory union membership for mailmen.

An amendment by Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., to kill the reform plan, grant workers an 8 per cent pay raise and fire striking postal workers was defeated Wednesday 105-57.

The house then amended the bill to create an independent, self-supporting U.S. Postal Service, raise pay 8 per cent, and permit each worker to decide whether to join a union.

Opponents of the ban against compulsory union membership said it would throw the balance of power in pay negotiations to management and supercede state union laws.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., argued postal unions should be permitted to enlist maximum support for negotiations with management that will be under pressure to keep wages low.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said the House-approved ban "for the first time will reach the long arm of the federal government" into the "39 states that permit compulsory unionism and exempt mailmen from state laws."

The vote on the amendment by Rep. David N. Henderson, D-N.C., was 179 to 95.

The Henderson amendment inserts into the bill the language of executive orders by President Nixon and former President John F. Kennedy that mailmen have the right to join or refrain from joining unions.

The 11 postal unions count about 600,000 of the country's 740,000 mail workers as members.

Postal reform opponents led by Wright said the bill would sacrifice Congress' control of the mails to a corporation that would soon be running in the red and asking Congress for subsidies to bail it out.

Udall said Wright's proposal to grant a $538 million annual pay boost without corresponding revenue increases was typical of Congress' mail management and why the system should be turned over to a business-like, independent agency.

Murder Case Is Sent to Jury

By MARY NELL TURNER

The jury retired at noon today in Hempstead Circuit Court to reach a decision in the case of State of Arkansas vs. Richard Williams.

They were instructed to declare the 16-year-old boy guilty of first degree murder with life imprisonment, second degree murder with imprisonment for from 5 to 20 years or not guilty.

The sordid details of the night of March 29 on which Paul R. Parsons, 40, of Delight, and Mrs. LuDean (Brown) Cassidy, 37, of Nashville, were shot and killed in Hempstead county were reviewed by the Prosecuting Attorney Dub Arnold and Deputy John Graves and Defense Attorney Lester E. Cole.

Dr. Rodney Carlton of Little Rock medical examiner, had appeared on the stand again today to establish the fact that the blood samples found in the back seat of the car were Type O, Mrs. Cassidy's, and Type A, Mr. Parsons. He further stated that he found Type A blood on a seat belt seat to him.

Dicky Williams had testified Wednesday that Parsons was shot outside the car and Carolyn Sue Cassidy, 12, had testified Tuesday that Williams shot Parsons as he sat in the back seat of the car.

During the morning, Mrs. Frankie Williams, mother of the young man, testified in his behalf. She is the operator of Williams Cafe and a widow.

Attempted Assault

Deputy Graves in reviewing the testimony stated that Carolyn Sue Cassidy said that Williams had attempted assault during the evening and that Parsons and her mother told him to leave her alone. The defense said Williams' suked and later said "You'll never live to fix your radio" before shooting Parsons. Carolyn Sue further stated that he shot her mother in spite of Mrs. Cassidy's plea of "Please don't shoot me."

Sixteen-year-old Richard Williams related the events of March 29-30 on the witness stand Wednesday afternoon with the permission of his attorney and his mother.

The young man told how he was "just goofing off" on March 29 and joined Paul Parsons about 5 o'clock. The two talked, then went to Parsons' house to get an ailing .22 caliber pistol to do some trial firing.

To Murfreesboro

Following a drink or so of wine and then a bottle of beer, he said they drove to Murfreesboro. It was about 8 p.m. when they finally picked up Mrs. LuDean Cassidy at her home in Nashville.

Mrs. Cassidy's daughter Carolyn Sue, 12, then joined them. Williams said he didn't care much about her going "But it don't make me much difference" he said when asked by the older couple.

According to the 16-year-old, they purchased four Cokes and drove to a dirt side road where they parked. The older couple moved to the back of the car. During the evening, Carolyn Sue, he said, argued with Parsons about keeping the dome light on, which she wanted.

Some time later, Parsons got out of the car and Carolyn Sue followed him and shot. Williams said she turned back to the car, faced her mother who said "What are you doing with that pistol?" He said Carolyn Sue pulled the trigger.

He said the events which followed were with her holding the gun on him. He said he dragged the woman's body from the car, then drove to Redwater, Texas where he got gas without paying for it. At Maud, Texas, he said he let her out of the car and drove to Mt. Pleasant where he was picked up by the police. Throughout the questioning he insisted "She done the shooting."

Living Cost Rise Adds to Inflation

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rise in living costs of four-tenths of one per cent last month added to the nation's worst inflationary spiral in twenty years but a government official said there has been a "significant" slowing of the pace of price hikes in recent months.

Costs of all major categories were up, with transportation and clothing posting the largest price hikes in May, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The bureau figured the May rise at five-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis for the fourth straight month, because food prices rose instead of dropping as usual in May.

"The rate has come down from the six-tenths of one per cent rate of November, December, and January," said Dr. Joel Popkin, assistant commissioner of the bureau.

"It has come down to five-tenths of one per cent monthly changes, which is significant," he said of the past four months. He added that the four-tenths actual rise in May was more significant to consumers because it reflected prices they had to pay, while the seasonal figure of five-tenths was of more interest to economic analysts.

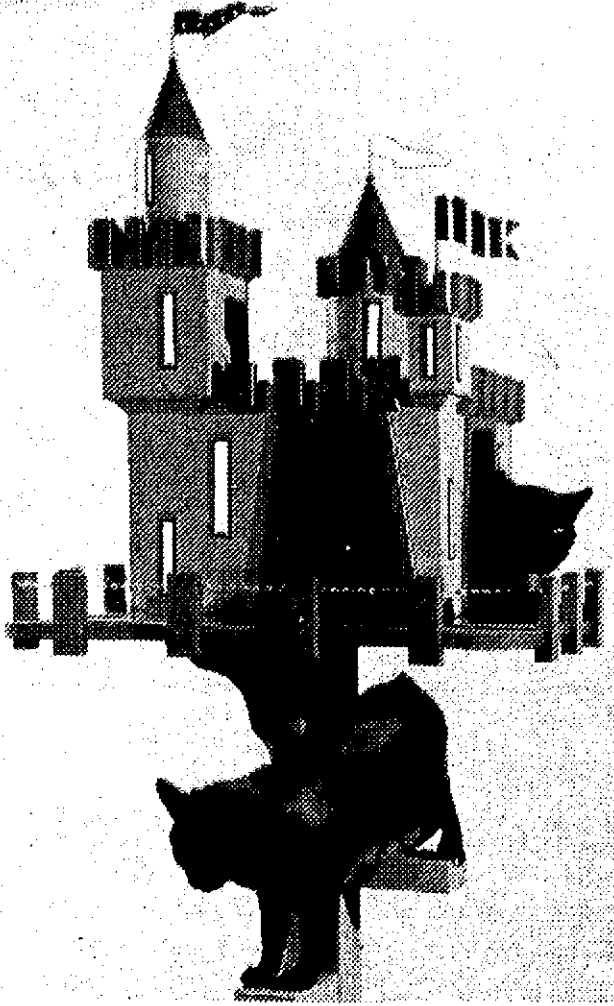

The May increase boosted the government's Consumer Price Index to 134.6, meaning it cost $13.46 last month for every $10.00 worth of typical family spending in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based. The four-tenths of one per cent rise was the smallest since last January, when it was also four-tenths but figured seasonally as a six-tenths rise.

Bookkeepers Under Fire Promoted

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Board of Trustees of State College of Arkansas promoted two business office employees Wednesday to the surprise of auditors who have been critical of the college's bookkeeping.

Acting in executive session on a list of administrative appointments recommended by President Silas D. Snow, the board elevated controller Bennie Horton to vice president for business affairs and L. P. Crafton, an accountant, to assistant business manager.

Legislative auditors who are examining SCA's books expressing surprise at the appointments, said Horton and Crafton shared the responsibility for the college's bookkeeping procedures.

Prosecutor Jeff Mobley of Russellville said recently that the books were "sloppy to the point of being unreal, unreasonable and ridiculous."

Questions about the bookkeeping involved allegations of failure to complete work and an absence of internal controls.

Auditors said no entry was posted in the general ledger between July 1, 1969, and Jan. 1, 1970.

Horton and Crafton said the business office fell behind in its work because personnel spent most of the fall reviewing books for a shortage discovered in September. They said the ledger had since been brought up to date through May 31, but auditors said some accounts still had not been posted.

Robert L. Pruitt, 30, of Phoenix, Ariz., former cashier at the college, has been charged with embezzlement as a result of the alleged shortage.

No allegation was made that either Horton or Crafton were involved in the shortage.

They denied that lax bookkeeping may have made it easier to conceal embezzlement.

But Ted Bruich Jr., head of the auditing team of the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee, said, "If you've got any type of controls, you're bound to catch any discrepancy within a reasonable period."

Questions about the business office promotions, Snow said only that any audit was incomplete. He said blame had not been fixed.

Board members declined to discuss the appointments after their executive session.

No mention was made in the board's open session about the alleged inept bookkeeping. Snow said later in an interview that he had briefed individual board members and that each had been assured that business office records would be brought up to date and kept current.

Auditors said an attempt may have been made to let the public think that two retiring officers in the business office, Harold D. Eldson, vice president for business affairs, and C. C. Hudson, assistant business manager, held the blame for failure to keep ledgers up to date.

The auditors said the two were not to blame. Bruich said the last set of SCA books he looked at were "in beautiful shape."

The books now under audit were compiled since Crafton joined the department five years ago. Horton came to SCA last year after six years with the state Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance.

Horton said he majored in accounting at Oklahoma City University. Asked if he graduated, he said, "That's in question."

Horton said he and Crafton had not commented previously on allegations about their department because "we're not guilty of anything."

"We have been willing to let the facts speak for themselves," Horton said.

Board members made plain that they did not want to answer newsmen's questions. Wayne Jordan of the Arkansas Gazette submitted in writing a request that reporters be permitted to query the board after its agenda was completed.

At that point, Snow said he had "one more personnel matter" which did not require action that he had forgotten to bring up in the board's first executive session.

Board Chairman Louie Polk of West Memphis asked if the members wanted to act on Snow's business or hear newsmen and Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock, the board attorney, suggested, "You ought to get through with your business first."

Newsmen were ejected and the board went into closed session. Before reporters could return to the board room when the executive session ended, the trustees had voted to adjourn and hurried out of the chamber.

Polk and J. C. Mitchell of Little Rock refused to answer questions newsmen thrust at them.

Snow also provided no answers. He said later in his office that he was reluctant to comment because of the charge pending against Pruitt. He said he felt he should not discuss matters that are in litigation.

The board discussed the Freedom of Information Act with newsmen and then voted unanimously to go on record as being willing to comply with the law.

The discussion of the act came up when reporters questioned whether the board had failed to "fully comply" with the law at its last meeting.

A recent newspaper story quoted Mobley as saying the board consulted with its attorneys about the alleged lax bookkeeping procedures while also discussing the dismissal of Pruitt. Mobley said the condition of the records had nothing to do with the case against the former cashier.

The 1967 act says that state boards and agencies that receive or administer state funds can go into executive sessions only to discuss personnel matters.

Funds Cut Off on Road to Statue?

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette reported today that the proposed road past the Gerald L. K. Smith religious projects at Eureka Springs would not receive federal funds.

The Gazette said that Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe would announce that a re-evaluation of the proposed project had shown that there wasn't enough general use of the road to justify the allocation of federal funds.

Funds for the road have been delayed repeatedly as a group of congressmen, several Jewish organizations and the American Civil Liberties Union denounced the road as being designed to benefit the project of Gerald L. K. Smith, whom they denounced as anti-semitic.

Smith had said that he had learned the funds would not be released for the road. He said he would file a brief with the attorney general's office charging several persons with conspiracy to violate his civil rights in their efforts to stop federal funds for the road.

Cattfish Farming on Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more farmers in the South are angling for better incomes—using catfish as a lure.

The Agriculture Department says that although it takes a lot of money to start a catfish farm big enough to net worthwhile profits, the industry is expanding rapidly.

Arkansas and Mississippi are two areas involved in the catfish boom. In 1963, the acreage of reservoirs stocked with brood catfish and fingerlings in these agencies. In a report accompanying the bill, the committee approved "the concept that mankind can find a reasonable balance between the demands of the natural environment and those of its own man-made environment."

two states totaled less than 1,600. By 1969, catfish had moved into more than 20,000 acres of reservoir space.

The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service recently checked 27 eastern Arkansas farms where 96 catfish reservoirs of all sizes were built in 1968 and 1969.

On the average, the researchers found, the farmers committed $256 per acre for reservoir construction and related developments.

The costliest part of creating new reservoirs was the average $157 bill per acre for levee construction by custom operators.

Other sizable items were an $83 average outlay per acre for complete well units, and $52 per acre for clearing and smoothing land when it was wooded and had a lot of stumps.

'Inflation Alert' Is Lowgraded

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders seemed bent today on de-emphasizing the "inflation alert" portion of President Nixon's new anti-inflation plan, saying the White House won't turn its publicity spotlight on individual price-boosting companies.

And congressional reaction gave ample evidence that Nixon's Wednesday broadcast on the state of the economy will not quiet the clamor in Congress for a tougher anti-inflation clampdown.

While Republican senators generally endorsed the Nixon proposals, Democratic congressional leaders branded them "vaude... soothing rhetoric."

too little and too late." Nixon announced he will name a new 24-member National Commission on Productivity. He has ordered his Council of Economic Advisers to "prepare a periodic inflation alert." This, he said, would "spotlight the significant areas of wage and price increases."

But when pressed for details, administration officials said there would be no jawboning "in the sense of direct pressure on individual firms or unions." The inflation alerts, it was stated, would not deal with specific commodities.

Officials seemed bent on deflecting the attention of newsmen from the "inflation alert" plan, insisting the problem of productivity—a sharp decline in the rate of increase in output per worker—was the core of the inflation problem.

Child Dies of Hardened Arteries

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A team of autopsy surgeons has reported that a 14-year-old girl died of hardening of the arteries, a disease of old age.

Dr. Henry Turkel, San Francisco County coroner, said the condition of the girl's coronary arteries resembled that of women in their 70s and 80s.

The girl, Florencia Gomez, a junior high school honor student, was a Filipino who came here a year ago from Manila with her father and two teenage sisters.

She collapsed Monday at the San Francisco General Hospital, where her father had sent her to seek treatment for what was believed to be a cold.

Turkel said there was evidence the girl recently suffered an undetected heart attack.

Dr. Frederick Bruhn, the hospital's chief resident pediatrician, commented: "In fact, she probably went through her brief life having heart attacks and passing them off as minor pains."

SUNDAY IN NEW YORK? This particular "sundae" is not edible, but has a wick and burns. It's the creation of Carmine Pasucci, a "little old candlemaker" in New York's Greenwich Village.

Alleged Mutineers Cleared

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Court of Military Review has ruled that no mutiny took place at the San Francisco Presidio on Oct. 14, 1968, and has reversed the conviction of the first of 22 men tried on that charge.

The court acted Tuesday, with its three military judges agreeing that Pvt. Nesrey Sood, 27, Oakland, was guilty of a lesser charge, "willful disobedience of an order."

He had been sentenced to 15 years at hard labor for mutiny. The review court gave him one year at hard labor, and, like the mutiny court-martial, sentenced him to forfeiture of all pay and allowances and a bad conduct discharge.

But the review court—sitting in Washington—also ruled unanimously that it was not mutiny when 27 stockade inmates sat down and sang "We Shall Overcome" when ordered to go on a work detail.

This means, said American Civil Liberties Union attorney Paul Halvonik who helped handle Sood's appeal last February, that if upheld, Sood's reversal could mean similar action for the other 21 men convicted of mutiny.

Of the original 27, three escaped and are believed to be in Canada. Two were convicted of lesser offenses.

Halvonik said the Army has 10 days to appeal Sood's reversal to the higher Military Court of Appeals.

Sood, meanwhile, was paroled last March and already has served 13 months—more than the year to which the review court sentenced him Tuesday.

Negro Runs for Judge in St. Francis

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. J. F. Cooley, a Negro, filed Tuesday as a Republican candidate for St. Francis County judge.

Cooley, a civil rights activist, is currently on the staff of Shorter College in North Little Rock.

Ralph Nesbitt, a Negro farmer of Palestine, filed as a Republican candidate for St. Francis County sheriff.

FBI Bldg. to Be Costliest

By MARK BROWN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of the most expensive government building ever—a new headquarters for the FBI—has gone up by $5 million. Meanwhile, all that is visible at the site is a massive hole.

The General Services Administration, the federal government's housekeeping agency, acknowledges it has revised its estimate of the building's cost to $102.5 million.

Cost of the 11-story structure, scheduled for completion in late 1973 or early 1974, originally was set at $97.2 million. The next most expensive government building in the nation is the 4-year-old, $87 million Rayburn House Office Building.

That structure, exclusive of the underground parking garage and furnishings which added millions more to the final costs, had been expected to cost $64 million when commissioned in 1958.

The FBI's new building, across historic Pennsylvania Avenue from its present headquarters in the Justice Department, has been subject to some of the same forces that hiked the Rayburn price—rising construction costs and delays in letting contracts.

Excavation of the site was begun in late 1967 by Norair Corp., of Washington, D.C., under a $10.8 million contract calling for completion of half of the three underground floors.

As recently as last March, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told a House appropriations subcommittee the substructure would be complete through the floor of the second basement by May. Finishing touches were put on that phase last week.
